

Transforming Higher Education: Case Studies of SAP Customers

Malcolm Woodfield
Director of Global Industry Business Development, SAP Labs, Palo Alto

1. Abstract

SAP has over 1,000 University customers using SAP software for teaching and learning, reporting, and for managing University administration, research, and student information.

This presentation will demonstrate the power and the value of the SAP solution for Higher Education by focusing on a series of customer projects from Europe, Asia, North America, and Latin America."
