

Jean-François Desnos, President of EUNIS

Biography: Current President of EUNIS, Jean-François Desnos is in charge of Information Technology Innovative Projects at Grenoble Universities, and teaches computer science at Université Pierre Mendès France in Grenoble. He is leading the GRAAL French IT national project about an information system on research.

He has been a World Bank expert on a Middle East Higher Education project, the Director of the French national Data Warehouse Project and Sr. Consultant to the Swedish Consortium of universities, LADOK.

Dr. Desnos received both his MS and Ph.D. degrees in computer science from the University of Grenoble and completed his post-doctoral work in Canada. He was awarded the Chevalier des Palmes Académiques and the medal of the city of Grenoble for his contributions to Higher Education.